

Hike in the Bonifatu Forest

Experience the breathtaking nature of Corsica by foot and swim in the fresh water of the Figarella river

Corsica is famous for its many beautiful hikes. A few of them is through the Bonifatu forest. The forest is situated less than one hour drive from Calvi. We walk around 7-8 km surrounded by high mountains, high trees and beautiful nature. This hike is also a small part of the famous GR20 hiking trail.

First part of the hike goes uphill and the last part downhill towards the river. After the hike we stay by the Figarella river for a well-deserved lunch break, and, if you dare, a refreshing swim in the river! The water from the river is so fresh that it is drinkable, so if your bottle is empty you can simply fill it up from the river. Lunch pack is included.
